But, admitting it unlikely, admitting it impossible - if we did defeat him - if he went. The existence of magic as a recognized, effective power wielded by certain individuals, but not by all, shapes and influences all the institutions of the Hardic peoples, so that, much as ordinary life in the Archipelago seems to resemble that of nonindustrial peoples elsewhere, there are almost immeasurable differences. One of these differences may be, or may be indicated by, the lack of any kind of institutionalised religion. Superstition is as common as it is anywhere, but there are no gods, no cults, no formal worship of any kind. Ritual occurs only in traditional offerings at the sites of the Old Powers, in the great, universally celebrated annual festivals such as Sunreturn and the Long Dance, in the speaking and singing of the traditional songs and epics at these festivals, and, perhaps, in the performance of spells of magic. "Oh, you startled me!" she said. "What can I do for you, then?" ISBN: 0-380-58578-2. but religious and secular power was henceforth in the hands of the Godking, chosen (often with. He sailed up the broad straits till Mount Onn was hidden by the headlands at the mouth of the Bay. "No," she said, "only me. . . . Now he stopped and greeted the women. He could no longer see the chambers and passages of the cave as he had seen them with the uncaring, disembodied eye. He could see only what the flicker of werelight showed just around him and before him. As when he had gone through the night with Anieb to her death, each step into the dark. "Worms," said the helmsman, the master's brother. "Catch fish anywhere near Roke, you'll find em thick with worms as a dead dog on a dunghill." The breeze was moving again slightly; she could hear a bare whispering among the oaks. "A little," she said.
